

LANE KILLING.

Eye Witnesses Agree in Their Statements.

to Brain Rooney and Crowley with an axe.

Lane, the negro shot Sunday at two o'clock yesterday at the house of a negro, Lane made no dying cry, the only answer given by the negro being "Mrs. Witty (Mrs. Singleton) knows all about it."

and citizens visited this house and finally obtained the following statement, given by May Clark another witness. It will be well to note that officers arrested Jim Lane, a cook in a restaurant on East street, yesterday morning at 1 o'clock, and later, J. J. Rooney, proprietor of the restaurant, who did the killing.

Rooney was assisting Lane to make an inventory of his stock, which had been at a small debt. Rooney, arrested, was at home with a necktie, making out his account against different people, thinking, as he says, that it would be some day, he wanted to leave his home comfortable. As soon as the account was made out he intended to go.

HICKEY OR ELLIS?

The Question to be Decided by a Competent Judge.

A Fall Account of the Killing of McCarthy.

City Marshal William Hardwick of Denison arrived Monday night on the 10:30 train, and this morning he called at the recorder's court room. When the session was over, the Denison officer had a brief interview with recorder Feild, which resulted in the recorder sending for the prisoner who calls himself Frank Hickey. When Hickey appeared the recorder remitted the fine assessed against him for disorderly conduct and discharged him from custody. Immediately Marshal Hardwick arrested Hickey by the name of Chas. Ellis, on charge of murdering officer McCarthy on last Christmas day. The marshal intended leaving with his prisoner last night, but at nine o'clock he received a telegram from the Denison recorder, Jno. Nevins, telling him that on the next train a person would arrive who would identify Ellis with certainty. Marshal Hardwick awaited the arrival of this person and did not leave last night. A brief statement of the killing of Officer McCarthy by Charles Ellis on last Christmas day is as follows:

A row occurred in a house of ill-fame and Officer McCarthy was sent for. In approaching the house he met Ellis running away and called on him to halt. Ellis immediately drew his pistol and fired, his ball piercing the officer in the region of the heart. McCarthy returned the fire, and afterwards stated that he believed he hit Ellis in the back as he ran away. The party arrested here has a wound in the back corresponding with the probabilities as suggested by the dying policeman.

Can't Cook as Mother Did. How many a young wife's heart is saddened and happiness scattered because she cannot "cook as mother did." It is strange, sadly strange, and yet we all know it is true. How many a time has the tender hearted mother felt his soul bursting with grief as he told the harrowing story of some poor suffering woman, whose cheerful sunshine had turned to dismal darkness just because she could not "cook as mother did." And how it delights the heart of the mother when she hears of one of her dear young wife who is rescued from the gloomy fate of so many, in a manner so simple and easy that the only wonder is that all are not saved. This one to whom he now refers was led a blushing and blooming bride but a few short weeks ago, to the altar by one of our most promising and prominent young men. He promised to do everything in his power to make her happy, but in an evil hour he made the dangerous discovery that she could not "cook as mother did." He told her so, and from that hour the light of happiness began to die out in her once radiant eyes. The color that put to shame the faded hue of the rose departed from her cheek, the voice that welcomed him to a happy home and home grew silent as the grave, and the young husband saw that something must be done soon. He asked the sorrowful wife why she was so sad, and she told him because she could not "cook as his mother did," but if she had Royal Baking Powder he could say so no longer. Like a sensible fellow, he ordered a dozen boxes at once, and now he is afraid that his wife will raise the roof of the house some day, but he doesn't care for she is happy.

Help the Needy. The following has been handed the GAZETTE and explains itself. The lady that left it with the business office stated that much destitution prevailed, and that one need go no further than the old cemetery to find it. Editor GAZETTE—I would like to call the attention of all charitably inclined citizens, through your paper, to the needs of Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor an aged couple who reside near the old cemetery, who are sick and destitute, and without the necessities of life. They are respectable and worthy people. Mr. O'Connor has been earning his living by peddling apples until sickness overtook him. Any one feeling disposed to aid them can do the same by leaving it at the news depot of W. P. Cobb, on Main street.

An Extraordinary Case. My case was an acute form of bronchitis, and was of one and a half year's duration. I employed the best medical aid possible, but failed rapidly, until the doctors said I would die—that my case was incurable. Through upon my own resources, I got a bottle of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and in six hours felt a decided relief, in three days the cough almost disappeared. Now that my chances of life are good for many years, I earnestly recommend the above to every sufferer of lung or throat disease. L. G. LATHROP, Austin, Texas. 2-21-e-d-o-d-s-w. 17r.

Rope Walking. Professor Berger will walk across Houston street this afternoon at half past 2, performance lasting one hour and a half, and it will be the last one in this city. Don't fail to see the one-legged soldier perform his wonderful feats. Rope stretched from Cattle Exchange to Swartz's store.

The Humor of It. Ten mules sequestered on a writ by Fletcher Mersenberg and Squair, are still in the hands of the mules. Before either party can get the mules, a bond of $2,200 must be filed with the sheriff and so far neither party has given the bond. The only feature of the case worth noticing at present is the ludicrous attitude of the litigants, snarling at each other, while the mules, with their ears amiably wagging, calmly eat off their heads at the Central Wagon Yard.

A CALL FOR HELP To Which the Charitable People of Fort Worth will Respond With Their Usual Liberality.

Mr. E. P. Lingenfelter informed the GAZETTE yesterday of the death of Mr. Frank McAnally, which occurred on Friday, from meningitis. The deceased was a sober, industrious, hard-working mechanic, and leaves a family in destitute circumstances, in want of the necessities of life. It is only necessary to direct the attention of the generous, warm-hearted people of Fort Worth to cases of suffering to elicit a substantial response. The GAZETTE will forward to the family any contributions left at its counting-room.

In Memoriam. Near Fort Worth, on the 13th of February, 1883, Jeremiah Asbury.

The deceased had been a member of the Masonic fraternity for nearly a half of a century, and on the 14th inst. at a called meeting of Fort Worth lodge, 148, F. & A. M., the undersigned committee reported the following facts and resolutions; which were adopted by the lodge.

Brother Asbury was born in the state of Kentucky, March 30, 1812, and attached himself to our fraternity shortly after he attained his majority. He was married three times; first to Miss Elizabeth Davis in 1834; then to Miss Hardin in 1838, when he emigrated to Texas, and settled in Tarrant county in 1855. He has resided continuously in this county since that time. He built the first court house and jail for Tarrant county. He married Miss Ward, of Mississippi, in 1879. He was a charter member of our lodge at this place, and had been a member of the Methodist church for fifty years and up to the time of his death.

Resolved, That this lodge deeply regret and most sincerely mourn the loss of our departed brother, Jeremiah Asbury. The deceased died venerable in years and full of honors. He was Past Master of our lodge. We deeply sympathize with his bereaved family, and with them confidently expect to meet our brother in the land of the dead.

Resolved, That the foregoing be entered upon the minutes of the lodge, and that the family of the deceased be furnished a copy thereof by the secretary.

Neither mental nor physical labor can be accomplished satisfactorily unless the system is in order. When you feel tired, languid, wearied without exertion, the mind slow to act, and requiring great mental effort, you can't rest assured that your liver is not acting properly, and that nature requires assistance to help throw off impurities. There is no remedy that will accomplish this so mildly and yet effectively as "Prickly Ash Bitters." A trial will satisfy you of its merits. Jan 18-oct-dw-1w

GRAHAM NOTES. Correspondence of the Gazette.

Graham, February 19.—Miss Davis, a beautiful young lady from Galveston, is visiting relatives here, the family of Mr. L. T. Davis, a Graham merchant.

The preliminary trial of the school house disputants is set for Friday, the 23d inst. Eight of the party are in jail; one man killed, one lost part of his hand, and all about a lost school house not worth twenty-five dollars.

Captain Jos. Benedict, the "2K2" man, drifted into town during the cold spell.

Mr. J. M. Floyd has sold his residence to Dr. Ryus, in consideration of eight hundred dollars.

Graham is on the boom. Business is lively, and there is not a vacant house in the place.

Dr. S. M. Brown, Orange, Texas, says: "I have been selling Brown's Iron Bitters for some months, and have an increasing demand for it." 2-21-1w

Destitute—Correction. The GAZETTE is asked to correct the mistake appearing in yesterday's paper in regard to Mrs. Wilson. The generous, kind-hearted donor requests that his name be unmentioned, who gave the lady three dollars in person and has secured an order amounting to ten dollars from the commissioners court for supplies for the destitute family. Go thou and do likewise.

WEATHERFORD. Trade Notes—Improvements of a Substantial Nature.—A Theatre Fails in Business.—Personal Mention.

Correspondence of the Gazette. Weatherford, February 19.—The very cold weather we have experienced for the past several days caused quite a shrinkage in the business stir of this city; but to-day the warm sunshine brought many of our country cousins to the square and our merchants have enjoyed a good trade.

Chas. E. Carr & Co., proprietors of the Lane Star Theatre, failed to-day. Like all similar "high-kicking" institutions, they live but a short while and leave several unpaid bills behind them.

Mr. John H. Cullum, the venerable father of Mrs. C. C. Baker, died at the residence of his daughter yesterday and was buried to-day.

G. H. McLernott has secured the contract and has begun work on two-story stone buildings on North Main Street. One for H. Goldstein, the other for Eddleman & Davis.

B. J. Sheppard, Texas Express agent at this place, has been confined to his bed several days with pneumonia.

W. L. Graves, the efficient representative of the Stock Journal's publications passed through the city last night on a western pilgrimage in the interest of those sterling papers.

Rumor was current last week that F. O. Engstrom had purchased the stock and good will of D. L. Knox & Co., grocers, but your correspondent learns from good authority that the trade was not consummated.

The managers of the masquerade ball, advertised for February 20th, failed to receive sufficient encouragement and have postponed the affair indefinitely.

The Mansion Hotel. This house is undergoing considerable improvements, 18 new single rooms being added and will be ready for occupants in a short time. When complete the house will contain 78 rooms and closets; 55 of which are bed rooms. I return thanks to my numerous friends for the kind acts, as well as to all guests who have so liberally patronized me. I now hope to be able to give those coming improved accommodations, at least I will endeavor so to do. W. W. DUNN, Prop.
